By pushing the reflective bar, the door will open three feet to allow tenants to pass through and then close again behind them.

Won Door Testing in progress on all floors. The Won doors act as smoke barriers in case of fire emergency. They are wired to the fire alarm so that when the alarm goes off, the door's close automatically.

The tiger team has everything from Windex to caulk on their carts to help knock off architectural punch list items before they are ever on the list.
